

W. T. TANDY
Cashier.

JAS. A. YOUNG, Jr.
Asst. Cashier.

THE CITY BANK.

CAPITAL - $60,000.
Surplus and Undivided Profits, - $70,000.

Of this bank, every dollar of which, has been more than that of all other banks in Christian county combined, in proportion to capital, ranks among the very first in whole State banking.

HOPKINSVILLE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

(FORMERLY NELSON & DABNEY.)

HOPKINSVILLE, - KENTUCKY.

THE ABERNATHY CO., Proprietors.

Tobacco Loose or Prized. Prompt Personal Attention to all Business. Liberal Advances on Prized Tobacco in Store.

Our Holiday Line

Is More Complete

This year than ever, embracing all the new Novelties of the Season from the import and domestic markets.

most anything you could wish for can be found in our stock, and at prices to suit any purse.

Lopper & Kitchen.

W. A. P'POOL,

DEALER IN

the Whiskies, Wines, Brandies and Cigars.

I am making a Leader of

PAUL JONES' RYE.

Paul Jones' 4-Star Rye Whiskey,

Absolutely Pure-- QUARTS $1.00
4-PINTS 25c.

OR SALE BY--

W. A. P'POOL, No. 12 and 14 West Seventh Street.
W. R. LONG, Cor. Ninth and R. R. Streets.

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS.

Clarksville, Tenn., Nov. 5, 1904.

This crop of tobacco bids fair to be of better quality than the last year, and it is undoubtedly a short crop in quantity, and we wish to go record as predicting BETTER PRICES than last season. If you put your tobacco on the open market for sale, either LOOSE or PRIZED, it will go far towards solving the trust proposition. The price is mainly what is running prices. Sell your tobacco where the world can have a chance to buy it, and you will undoubtedly get the better price.

Assort and order your tobacco well and put it on the Loose Floor and we will get you full prices. Liberal advances made on consignments. Free warehouse for men and teams within the warehouse.
Thanking you for your patronage, we are,
Your friends,

Endrick-Runyon Tob. Warehouse Co.

TRUST IS PREPARING TO SHOW TEETH.

Farmers' Movement is Creating General Consternation.

TACTICS TO BE CHANGED

Will Fight the Farmers by Employing Strong Local Leaders.

The latest information is that the Tobacco Trust will change its tactics in regard to the farmers' organization.

The trust realizes at last that it cannot buy the present tobacco crop at half price, as was done last year.
Practically all of the farmers are in the movement, organized, and those not in the movement are smart enough to demand an increased price, profiting by the sagacity of their more public-spirited neighbors.

No crops have been sold at the starvation prices the trust doled out in classes last year. All sales made have been for whole crops and at prices 25 to 50 per cent. higher than last year. The trust has readily agreed to pay the higher prices in order to break down the organization and is employing farmer buyers to carry out their plans.

The Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle discusses the plan as it is being worked in its section:

"It is said that the Trust has employed these buyers to buy at any price they can, and the trust is to take such purchases off their hands at a profit of $3 per hundred. Farmers should understand the game and stand upon their honor and shoot straight at the mark. It is further said that some of these buyers were out yesterday offering $11.25 and $11.50 round. It behooves every farmer to get on his fighting clothes and stand to his gun, and spare no deceiver that gets in the way. Men who will thus betray their friends and serve the enemy for a mess of pottage are entitled to no mercy.

Another bit of interesting news of which we are informed by a prominent gentleman is that in a conference of a large number of business men yesterday, connected with the tobacco interest, it was the unanimous sentiment that Mr. Felix Ewing had already won the fight if the farmers prove true to themselves and stand by him like men. Surely they will do this, and pour their scorn and contempt upon the man or men who betray this great cause.
Such a man is unworthy to live in any honest, respectable community."

This is strong language, but it is necessary to enforce discipline and co-operation at this critical period.
Chairman E. D. Jones, of this county, states to the Kentuckian that he will brook no foolishness in this association. Parties to the contract who break their signed agreement and sell without the consent of the organization will find themselves in litigation up to their necks with their neighbors. Damage suits will be brought against any and every man who seeks to break down the co-operative movement after he has become a party to it. As long as from 75 to 90 per cent of the crop is held in a body and controlled by the officers of the association, the trust can be dealt with like it dealt with the suffering producer last year. Its contracts must be placed and there is but one Dark Tobacco District and but one tobacco crop to be purchased.

Farmers, for once do not be deceived. You are in the saddle. Do the riding, and spare neither whip nor spur.

License Issued.

A marriage license was on yesterday issued to Edgar Gamble to wed Miss Velia Croft.

GAMBLE-REED.

Crofton Couple Will be Married Tomorrow.

Mr. Napoleon Gamble and Miss Dorothy Reed, young people in the Crofton neighborhood, will be united in marriage at the bride's home tomorrow morning. The Rev. W.
F. Crick will perform the ceremony.

ALLEN-OVERTON.

A Young Couple of Haley's Mill Get Married.

The marriage of Mr. C. C. Allen and Miss Dovie H. Overton, well known young people living near Haley's Mill, will take place tomorrow morning. The wedding will occur at the home of the bride.

Called to Paducah.

Last evening, at the business meeting held by the congregation of the Second Baptist church, the members accepted the proposition of Rev. E. H. Cunningham, of Cadiz, Ky., and called him to the pastoral charge of the flock. Register.

REYNOLDS-WEAKS.

Young Hopkinsville Doctor
Weds In Tennessee.

Dr. Wilton Reynolds, of this city, and Miss Bessie Weeks, of Dover, Tenn., were united in marriage at the home of the bride Tuesday.
Dr. Reynolds, who recently came to this city from Tennessee, is a nephew of Dr. W. E. Reynolds, with whom he has made his home and practiced his profession. His bride is said to be a very pretty and accomplished young lady. The young couple will make their home in this city.

NOT SO BRISK,

But Sales Amounted to Over 100 Hogsheads.

While the local tobacco market remains quiet, the inspector's report shows twenty hogsheads received during the past week. Receipts for the year, 14,375 hogsheads. Sales for the week, all private, amounted to 122 hogsheads.
This brings the total sales for the year up to 14,019 hogsheads.

OYSTERS,

THE FINEST EVER SHOWN IN HOPKINSVILLE---NOTHING NICER FOR XMAS.

CAR ORANGES, Half Car Apples;

CANDIES, NUTS,
FIGS, RAISINS,
FRUIT CAKES,
MINCEMEAT,
ETC., ETC.

We have several different varieties of apple, but of Oranges we have but the one kind---Radford Bros., Lake Weir, Fla.,---name branded on every box.
They are the finest grown.

W. T. Cooper & Co.

SKEEN-FRANCIS.

Mannington Marriage Occurred Last Night.

Last night at 8 o'clock Mr. Melrose Skeen and Miss Osie Francis, of near Mannington, were united in marriage. The event occurred at the home of the bride's parents.

HEAVY INCREASE

In Amount of Mortgaged Tobacco.

Mortgages recorded in the county clerk's office during the year, securing loans on Christian county tobacco, amount to $31,405.20. For 1903 the amount was $44,325.60.

An Infant's Death.

An infant of Mr. and Mrs. H. C.
Richards, Jr., died Thursday morning. It was born only two days before.

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Dave Cunningham's Bond
Fixed at $250.

The examining trial of Dave Cunningham, col., charged with the larceny of some money belonging to a Ninth street business man, was held over to the grand jury. Bond was fixed at $250, but up to yesterday afternoon bail had not been furnished.

Nearly Over.

But few smallpox cases remain under treatment in the county hospitals. There are no sick persons now, all being convalescent. During the prevalence of the disease in Christian county, there were in a period of six months ten deaths, all negroes.

Death at Pembroke.

The wife of Mr. W. S. Dickinson, of Pembroke, died at her home yesterday. She was about 55 years old and had been an invalid for about two years.

PRETTY GIRLS IN SONGS AND DRILLS.

Miss Jones' Recital at Bethel
Thursday Night a Big Success.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT.

Delightful Musical Program Carried Out By the Young Ladies.

There have been many pleasant
recitals at Bethel Female College, but the one given Thursday evening set a new standard of excellence.

The crowd filled every available point of vantage in the college halls, until even standing room was at a premium.

The published program was carried out, with one exception, Miss Georgie Butler was ill and did not play the piece assigned to her. The program began with an Allegro from Beethoven by Misses Wilson, Young,
Boyd and Hoge, on two pianos.

Miss Nannie Stowe and Miss Mammie Lam gave selections from Nevin and Schumann respectively and were followed by a duet from Merz by Misses Mary Tandy and Agnes Flack.

Miss Mary Carr played most delightfully two pieces from Dennee and Whelpley.

Miss Mabel Wilson, a pretty vocalist possessing a voice of rare sweetness, sang "Like Violets Pale" and "The Swallows."

Miss Susie Boyd played "Murmuring Zephyrs" from Neumann.

Little Miss Frances Summers gave a selection from Godard, and Miss Mary Hillie a Prelude from Bach and Etude from Chopin.

Miss Addie Green's Allegro from Mozart showed her to be a little musician of the rarest promise.

Miss Katie Huges, Miss Miriam Eades and Miss Anna Layne, each played with skilled hands choice selections from Grieg, Beethoven, Merkel and Lange.

Miss Margaret Anderson, another of the younger pupils, played Lange's "Philopena" most charmingly.

Misses Mayme Lam and Lucy White gave a rhapsody from Liszt.

Miss Eunice Mayes, Miss Neil Tandy and Miss Edna Eades each had delightful selections and Miss Annie Stowe sang "A Rich Red Rose" from Hastings, in a sweet and welltrained voice.

There were several choruses participated in by about thirty of the young ladies and the entertainment concluded with a tambourine drill by eight young ladies in uniform.

This novel feature was one of the decided hits of the evening.

After the musical program was over, the young ladies held the usual reception in the parlors.

CHRISTMAS TREE

Entertainment For Elks.
Lodge Charity Committee Work.

Mr. Henry Blumenstiel, the popular custodian of the Elks home, has invited all the members of the order to a Christmas tree entertainment which he will give tonight in the club rooms. Appropriate presents will be given the Elks, and some happy hits are promised.

The members of the lodge at the last meeting presented Mr. Blumenstiel with a handsome watch chain as a token of their regard.

Last night the Elks Christmas committee visited all parts of the city and left large baskets of provisions and toys at homes Santa Claus could not visit.

Carl Dietrich and Charlie McPherson are home from State College at Lexington.

BY ETHEL MILLER

the only girl she was certainly the only young and pretty one in the district, and the fame of her admirers was legion. He would catch the northern coach next morning before daybreak and would say good-by to her that evening. She

Her brother Harry was unfortunately away at a district court meeting giving evidence against horse stealers, and the two servants were raw, clumsy bush specimens, and Mrs Lance—well—Mrs

"What earthly use are new magazines to me? Are you going to be heartless, too, Donald? Go away again, I hate you and that cat, Mrs. Lance—and—Mr. Sylvester—and every one!" There was a hysterical ring in Grace's voice.

Many Gardens in Vienna.
More than five-eighths of the area of Vienna is covered by woods, vineyards, parks and gardens.

Joe P. P'Pool. Mgr.

Wholesale & Retail,
Fruits and Candies.

ORANGES, wholesale, $2.75; Retail, $3.00 box.
 APPLES, (any except Winesaps) $3.00 bbl.
 NUTS, 3 lbs. ass't. 50c.
 CANDY, all prices from 3 lbs. for 25c to Lowney's best Chocolates at 50c per lb.
 BOX CANDIES, 25c to 50c per lb.

Full line of Confectioneries and Fruits of all kinds.
Fruits at Wholesale Prices to Re-handlers.
Tobacco, Cigars, Cakes, Sugar and Coffee.

Tkos. Datillo,
204 S. Main St., Hopkinsville, Ky.

FOR This Week
Holiday
Millinery
at Cut Prices.....

There are still half a dozen Handsome Pattern Hats Going at Cost.
Trimmed Dress Shapes, Ready-to-Wears and Children's Hats at Less Than Cost.

Beautiful Line of Notions, Novelties, Belts, Etc., can be bought here for less money than elsewhere.

TEMPLE OF FASHION,
HOPKINSVILLE'S LEADING MILLINERY STORE

105 Main street. Miss S. B. Hooser & Co.

A BUSINESS EDUCATION

is absolutely necessary to the young man or young woman who would win success in life. This being conceded, it is of first importance to get your training at the school that stands in the very front rank.

THE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE,

N. E. Cor. Second and Walnut Sts., LOUISVILLE, KY.

BOOK-KEEPING. Seven experienced teachers, each one a specialist in his line. Write for a beautiful book giving full particulars.

SHORTHAND. In this line, write for a beautiful book giving full particulars.

TELEGRAPHIC CODES. From graduates occupying prominent positions all over the world.

TRAINING IN THE USE OF THE CALCULATOR. Be initiated to your satisfaction.

School open all year. Students can enter at any time. E. J. Wright, Pres.

Every Other Day!

THE KENTUCKIAN

Will Hereafter Be Issued Tri-Weekly---Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Rates for advertisements running every issue will be increased 50 per cent. Current contracts, without further orders, will be filled by insertion semi-weekly—Tuesdays and Thursdays. These issues will be eight pages as heretofore. Saturday's paper will be 4 or more pages, as the demands of advertisers may require. There will be no change in subscription rates, except that all clubbing arrangements have been discontinued. No subscription will be received at less than the regular rate of

$2 Per Year,
$1.00 for 6 Months,
50c for 3 Months!

Short term subscribers in the city, paying the carrier 5 cents per week delivered. The Kentuckian will cater, especially to the county patronage. It will be delivered on all Rural Routes, Railroad Routes and Star Routes in the county on the days of publication.

We Point to a Record of More Than a Quarter of a Century, a Period of Unbroken Success,

Equaled by no other paper ever published in the County. It will be in the future all it has been in the past---and more. It will be neatly printed with new type, will be conservative in tone, clean in expression, fair in its dealings and a leader in all progressive movements. All new cash subscribers for 1905 will be given the rest of this year free.

Chas. M. Meacham,
Publisher.

A CAPABLE OFFICER. A STRICT DISCIPLINARIAN AND ABLE ORGANIZER.

Rojestvensky Loves the Sea and Has Spent His Life in Naval Accomplishments—Tribute Paid
by London Press.

London. The Chronicle of this city pays a striking tribute to the capabilities of Admiral Rojestvensky, commanding the Russian Baltic squadron. It says:

Never has an armada started for war with such an ominous presage of disaster as has descended upon Russia's Baltic squadron on its emergence into the open sea. The man of the hour is emphatically its commander, Rear Admiral Z. P. Rojestvensky, who is now continuing his three months' voyage to the Pacific with death in his rear and the menace of irretrievable ruin in front.

Accused as it is at the North as treacherous, English public opinion is too just to arraign personally the Russian admiral before determining how far he and how far some of his lieutenants or "panicky" subordinates are responsible. The restraint is creditable and will certainly be justified. Rojestvensky is the last Russian on whom to place an imaginary danger by wreaking indiscriminate destruction. When the facts come out it will probably be found that certain Russian officers' nerves were too much for them, that they acted without orders and that so far from the firing beginning through the admiral's orders it ceased as soon as his flagship became aware of the facts.

For a few weeks to come Rojestvensky's name will be associated exclusively with the North sea blunder. But that is not his position in history. As commander in chief of what Russians denominate the "second Pacific squadron" his fortune is bound up with blunder if less exceptional events. His heterogeneous fleet is Russia's last hope and he himself is an essential part of that hope.

Rojestvensky is a comparatively young man. He was born near Moscow in 1848, and after getting the theoretical, impracticable education of a Russian naval officer, blossomed out suddenly as a hero. For two unexampled feats of bravery in the war of 1877-78 he gained the St. George's cross. He served in the Black and Baltic seas, gaining a high reputation as a seaman, and in 1903 abandoned seagoing for the post of chief of staff at the ministry of marine. In a year he made a reputation. He had fought well with his sword, but fought a much harder battle for efficiency. Had that battle been decided before February, 1904, Russia's naval disaster before Port Arthur would probably never have taken place. Rojestvensky is a typical Russian and a typical naval officer. His men call him "Admiral Motovilov," official admiral, and taciturnity goes well with the reserved expression and manners of the Russian aristocrat. The naval man shows himself in his taste for his leisure: unavailing, experimental craft and tiny sailing boats in the Gulf of Finland. He has written of the sea, and it is said that his only friends crowded him because he insisted on taking of nothing but the sea. Such a man ought to prove a good sailor, and, in fact, as a sailor and navigator not even Makarov surpassed him.

ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY
Commanding the Baltic Fleet of the Russian Navy

Rojestvensky is a stern disciplinarian, but he differs from all disciplinarians, past and present. Blame in the form of a string of anathemas might be expected from a "silent admiral." Rojestvensky, however, is a humorist, and during the past six months he has been worrying his ill-mated officers and men into efficiency by characteristic methods. Instead of storming or reprimanding he issued periodically "general orders" holding up the most ignorant officers to the derision of the fleet.

The commander in chief of the second Pacific squadron, one of these, was to inform the fleet that study was the purpose for which Cadets D— and F— were appointed to the cruiser Aurora. These young gentlemen have been wrongly given executive leave and the commander in chief now proposes to extend their holidays for such a lengthy period that they will be weary of play as they now are of work. A whole series of similar orders was issued, with the result that shirkers were terrified into hard work and ignoramus into acquiring knowledge. The Baltic fleet has been able to start at all it is due to Rojestvensky and to no one else.

The Naughty Host.
Fortune smiles on few, and laughs at many.—Chicago Daily News.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

All loyal alumni of the University of Michigan and all friends of that institution who wish their football team to retain its acknowledged supremacy, will be greatly pleased to hear that Coach Fielding H. Yost has announced that he will be back at Ann Arbor again next year. The rumor was recently circulated that he would go to Pennsylvania next year. It is said that after making the Ann Arbor eleven champions of 1903 Yost wanted to be released from his contract and go east to coach a minor team, having all the time in view an opportunity of trying his proteges against some of the star elevens here. It would not be surprising, though, to see Michigan's famous coach drop out of football business for good at any time. Yost is in a different position from his two great rivals, who share with him the football reputation of the west—namely, Stagg, of Chicago, and Williams, of Minnesota. Their profession is coaching in athletics of all sorts the year round. Yost's is not. He not only has other business interests besides the Michigan football team, but he spends less than a quarter of the entire year in Ann Arbor. Yost's salary is undoubtedly the highest paid any coach in the country for the time spent earning it, but he is such a good money maker for Michigan that it might take a small fortune to get him at some other college. Nevertheless, the work and worry which Yost stands is tremendous, and he may at any time suddenly decide that his coaching ambition is satisfied. Yost is practically sure to be at Michigan next year. From the football enthusiasm which he himself has created, Yost has become a loyal Michigan fan as to his alma mater, and this holds him. So enthusiastic is he over Michigan that he follows the track team to all its big meets. His loyalty is part of his success with the men, and if there is sincerity in his expressions of such spirit Yost will stick to Michigan for a long time to come. The ambition to go east and "show them," which has made the coach restless for the last two years, has not much cause for living any longer. Yost has a great volume of correspondence from eastern football enthusiasts, born and raised in the east, who admit that Michigan and other western elevens are the equals of the east. This correspondence is increasing in volume, showing a strong pro-western sentiment in the east.

F. H. Yost.

A new king of trotters has supplanted the queen of trotters, and Major Delmar is now the generally acknowledged champion of the world. In the recent races at Memphis for the gold cup the great gelding, owned by E. E. Smathers, of New York, defeated the former champion, Lou Dillon. Friends of Lou Dillon claim she was not well, and unfit to run at the time of her defeat. Major Delmar is owned in New York city. More than that, he was bred, trained and always owned by the Empire state. With all the boasted climatic advantages that have produced former champions, the New York product now stands out as the greatest trotter the world has ever produced. The fact that the mile trotted by Major Delmar at Lexington in 2:01½ is a new world's record and eclipses the former record, held by Crevecoeur, by half a second, is really but a minor fact considering the horse as a new trotting king. It is the wonderful capacity he has shown throughout the season to duplicate performance that other champions have never been able to make but once that stamps him as the greatest trotter in turf history. Four times out of seven starts Major Delmar trotted in 2:02½. Twice his efforts fell short by half a second—at Readville in September, and at Columbus—each mile being trotted in 2:02½. All these preceded the eighth and successful attempt at Lexington, and seven such performances, or anything approaching them, were never before recorded in turf history. In the three campaigns when the great Crevecoeur was at his best, he trotted once in 2:02½, once in 2:03½, once in 2:04½, twice in 2:04, with the remainder of his miles all in slower time. With these facts to guide in giving Major Delmar the honor he has earned, it becomes plain that not only did he trot the fastest mile ever credited to a harness horse under normal conditions, but he has trotted more miles at the extreme limit this season than any former champion.

Major Delmar

Frank J. Marshall, of New York, won the championship of the United States in the chess tournament at St. Louis. It has been officially announced that Napoleon Lajolo has been appointed manager of the Cleveland American league team for the season of 1905, succeeding William R. Armour. Lajolo will also play second base for the team. What is claimed to be the world's record for rifle shooting at moving targets was made at Lincoln, Neb., the other day by Capt. A. H. Hardy, of Lincoln. With a 22 caliber rifle at a 35-yard rise he broke successively 1,000 two and one-half inch wooden balls.

$10 TO TEXAS.

One-Way Colonist Rates Dec. 13 and 27, via Cotton Belt Route.

On December 13th and 27th, 1904, the Cotton Belt Route will sell one-way Colonist tickets from Memphis to points in Texas at rate of $10, tickets good in chair cars and coaches.

The territory to which these rates apply includes Texarkana, Greenville, Paris, Bonham, Sherman, Dallas, Ft. Worth, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Tyler, Corsicana, Waco, Marshall, Palestine, Longview, Hillsboro, Brownwood, San Angelo, Austin, San Antonio, Copus Christi, Houston, Galveston, Beaumont and intermediate points.

Write for map, descriptive literature and any further information concerning rates.

L. O. Schaefer, T. P. A.
Cotton Belt, Cincinnati, O.

Harriman Route VIA Tennessee Central R. R.

The new short line to and from all Eastern points, including New York, Boston, Philadelphia and right service by daily package cars in connection with the Asheville Line, the Virginia-Tennessee & Georgia Airline, and the Richmond & Danville Dispatch.

Harriman Route
Solicit your patronage and guarantee careful attention and prompt handling of your business. See that your shipments are ordered and that your bills of lading read either of the above lines in care of the Tennessee Central R. R.

For further information apply to C. H. Hinton, Traffic Manager, Nashville, Tenn., or H. D. Pettus, General Agent, Clarksville, Tenn.

"ITS THE COMFORTLINE."

FREE
RECLINING
CHAIR CARS
ON THE POPULAR
HENDERSON ROUTE

BETWEEN ST. LOUIS,
LOUISVILLE
THE EAST AND SOUTHEAST.

As we are the originators of free reclining chair car service between St. Louis and Louisville don't you think we would pay you, in traveling, to "get it Henderson Route habit" it pay.

Ask Us About It.
W. F. SPOHR, T. P. A., L. W. ROGERS, T. A.,
Henderson, Kentucky

EVANSVILLE-TERRE HAUTE R.R.

CHICAGO DANVILLE
TERRE HAUTE
VINCENNES EVANSVILLE
NASHVILLE
BIRMINGHAM
MONTGOMERY
NEW ORLEANS MOBILE

THROUGH SERVICE

VIA
L. & N., E. & T. H. and C. & E. I.
2 Nashville Through Trains Daily
2 Nashville to Chicago
2 Through Sleepers and Day Coaches
Between Evansville and Nashville
Dining Cars Serving Meals en Route
R. H. HILLMAN, G. P. A. S. L. ROGERS, Gen. Agt.
EVANSVILLE, IND. NASHVILLE, TENN.

Long & Cooper,

General Insurance Agents.

Fire and Tornado.
Hopper Bldg., 6th & Main Streets,
HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

The Kentuckian.

PUBLISHED EVERY OTHER DAY.
TUESDAY, THURSDAY AND SATURDAY.
MURKINING BY
CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

Entered at the Postoffice at Lexington, Ky., as Second-Class Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One Year $2.00
Six Months $1.00
Three Months .50
Single Copies 10c
Advertising Rates on Application.

212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.
DECEMBER 24, 1934.

The Weather.

Dec. 23.—Fair and colder tonight. Much colder Saturday.

Congress adjourned Tuesday until January 4.

Christmas comes on Sunday this time and fire-crackers will not be in order.

Fairbanks and Shaw have already announced as candidates for President in 1936.

Senator John D. Morgan, of Alabama, is in failing health and is not able to be in his seat. He is eighty years.

Editor W. P. Walton, who sold his paper, the Lexington Democrat, to the Herald, it is said will remove the plant of the paper to Frankfort and start a morning daily early next month.

Kinship Gould, grandson of Jay Gould, a student at Columbia University, shot at a crowd of sophomores who were chasing him with a view to hazing him. He escaped to a building and was rescued by his father.

The plan for the Panama Canal favored by Chief Engineer Wallace is for a low-level waterway with locks which can be easily converted into a tide-water canal when traffic makes the change necessary.

One million Christmas trees were cut from the sides of the Green mountains in Vermont and shipped all over the country. Young spruce trees are getting very scarce in that state.

A young man in Chicago who tried to steal a kiss and failed was arrested at the instance of the girl and fined $100 by an unsentimental judge. This should be a warning to young men never to make a botch of anything they undertake.

A strong squadron of the Japanese navy has gone South to intercept and destroy the advancing warships of the Baltic fleet in the Indian ocean. As the Russian ships are badly scattered, the Japanese plan is to meet and destroy them in detail.

Senator Gus Richardson, Dr. J. W. Knox and R. W. Owen have a lively three-cornered contest for the Democratic nomination in the Hancock-Mead district. The Red Fox's Jersey calves are not being made an issue in the fight.

Former Governor James P. Eagle died at Little Rock Tuesday morning, after an illness of three weeks. He was Governor of Arkansas from 1889 to 1893, and was president of the Baptist convention for a number of years. He was a Baptist minister, held many public offices and was never defeated in an election.

The Cadis Record is showing a lack of wisdom in minimizing the smallpox epidemic in its county. The Kentuckian gave the locations of cases in Trigg and the names of those who died of smallpox last week. We have no quarrel with our neighbor, even when he questions indisputable facts we have pointed out. We sincerely hope the Record is right when it says Trigg county will be free of the disease by January 1st.

Senator Depew, Chauncey M. the great and only Chauncey, is to be succeeded as senator from New York by Frank S. Black, who is backed by the Odell machine. Although the old gentleman ranks first among after-dinner speakers, as a senator he has attracted no attention. His principal achievement was to go to Paris and marry a girl young enough to be his grand-daughter, three times in one day, to comply with civil and religious requirements.

Frank Patterson, the actor who has been charged with the murder of Chester Foster, will return with him in a second trial, as arranged Wednesday. The first trial failed to show that Young committed suicide.

Emmett Dickson, of Bourbon, is a strongly endorsed applicant for appointment as Judge Cantrell's successor on the circuit bench in the Frankfort district.

Rear Admiral Chas. H. Davis has reached Paris and the International Commission on the North Sea incident, has begun its sessions.

FARMERS "TRUST," Is What One Paper Calls The Tobacco Organization.

The tobacco trust is right up against the real thing, the farmers' trust. People say that the farmers' trust won't amount to anything. But it will. The farmers, when they make up their minds to do a thing, about as stubborn a set of fellows as you ever run up against. And their action is now being felt by the tobacco trade. Not a pound, you might say, has been bought this season and here it is almost the first of January. Last year at this time the American Tobacco Co. had bought more than 1,000,000 pounds at this point. It is true that the season last year was more favorable for handling than it has been so far this year, but if the season had been even so favorable they could not have bought it. The farmers are more independent than they were a year ago. They are in better shape for holding. They've got their heads together. They are holding meetings. They are talking the situation over and keeping posted. They are determined to fight it out on the lines laid down if it takes all winter. We glory in their spunk. They deserve to succeed, for they are entitled to a better price for their tobacco. Our advice is to stand firm. Breckinridge News.

KINOTOSCOPE

Best of All 10-cent Shows.
Flack Building, 9th Street.

Show Every 30 Minutes on Saturday, Dec. 24th.
After 1 p. m.

Weshow 700 feet of film. First 175 feet, Negroes Fighting, go as you please rule, and knock each other down like ten pins. Very amusing. Next comes the American Firemen. 425 feet, one of the greatest fire scenes ever shown.

Then comes "The Little Match Seller," 200 feet, on the street in the snowstorm selling matches for a living. She becomes so cold she strikes matches from her stock to warm her fingers. We can see her shiver as she is freezing. The vision of her dead mother appears on the scene. She reaches out her hand, touches her and she is gone. Then the angel comes and takes the spirit and ascends to heaven and a policeman finds the dead body.

We also show for 10 cents another lot of films over 700 feet, different subjects as given below: Beginning with a Bull Fight, then a Boat Race, the Battle of Santiago, Artillery Parade, Battleship Maine, Cavalry Fording River and Charging, Santa Claus, Actors in Tights, Pyramids of Egypt, Etc. To take it all in all it is the best show of its kind ever shown in this city.

Opens Saturday, Dec. 24, 1 p. m. Shows afternoon and night.

W. W. WILKINS.

Strayed or Stolen.

Strayed from my place near Butternut road Dec. 18, one horse and 2 mules. Mules returned Dec. 19, horse not since heard from. Reward for information.

Hugh J. McCarroll,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Snyder-Skerrett.

Mr. F. M. Snyder and Miss Eva Skerrett, both of this city, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the bride. Rev. H. D. Smith, of the Christian church, performed the ceremony.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Mr. Howard Thomas, who was married last night, is visiting Mrs. R. L. Thomas.

Mrs. A. G. Thomas, of Louisville, is visiting Mrs. R. L. Thomas.

Lyne Starling is home from Central University.

Mr. Arthur W. Hoge is engaged at home with sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Tate are visiting friends in Nashville.

Hugh Wood has returned from Lexington for the holidays.

Miss Gladys Mannie will spend next week with Miss Bettie Lee Smith.

Mrs. Herbert Roake, of Clarksville, is visiting relatives in the city.

Dr. A. C. Layne and wife, of Franklin, are here on a visit.

Messrs. R. E. Cooper, J. T. Edmunds and Frank Hoge went to Lafayette yesterday.

Mr. Leo Samuel, of Minneapolis, Minn., is a guest of his brother, Mr. S. J. Samuel.

Mr. Arthur B. Lander, of Louisville, is spending the holidays with his father, Mr. J. W. Lander.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie West are spending the holidays at Princeton, with Mrs. West's parents.

Tom Goldthwaite, who is at school near Louisville, is home for the holidays.

Messrs. Marjorie and Christine Caruthers, of Elkton, are visiting Mrs. T. W. Long.

Mrs. I. P. Gerhart, of Clarksville, is visiting her mother, Mrs. John S. Bryan.

Miss Martha Hardwick, who is attending school at Cincinnati, is home for the holidays.

Prof. Geo. F. Boehne, of Lockyear's Business College, returned to Evansville Thursday to spend a few days.

Miss Louise Carr arrived from Nashville this week and is spending several days with her sister, Miss Mary Carr, at B. F. College.

Miss Lizzie Lou Alexander, of the Bethel College faculty, will spend the holidays at her home at Middleton, Tenn.

Misses Orey and Gladys Isbitt, who are teaching school at Lafayette and Pee Dee, respectively, are here to spend the holidays with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Downey will return from the South in a day or two and be given a reception at Bethel college Tuesday evening.

Rev. H. B. Withers and family have moved to Texas to reside. Rev. Withers' health has not been good for some time and he goes to the Lone Star state, in the hope that he may derive benefit from that climate.

ALL TIRED OUT.

Hundreds More in Hopkinsville in the Same Plight.

Tired all the time; Worn and worn out night and day.

Back aches, side aches. All on account of the kidneys. Must help them at their work.

A Hopkinsville citizen shows you how.

John J. Basford, cooper of 786 E. Ninth street, says: "My back used to be so lame and sore at times that when I bent it was all I could do to straighten up again. The pains were always with me and I could not stand for any length of time without feeling them. I doctored at one time but did not obtain the slightest benefit. My attention was called to an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. I got a box at Thomas & Trahern's drug store and after using them a few days I could not help but notice a marked improvement in my condition. My health is better than it has been in years. I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills and strongly recommend them to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. E. F. For-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.; sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

HERE AND THERE.

Mrs. Eusebia B. Anderson is crippled with a carbuncle on her hip, and will not be able to be out for two or three weeks.

Superintendent Outlaw now has a good crew of involuntary street cleaners. Several juvenile offenders are being worked as sweepers behind the hoe brigade. The streets now look nice and clean and only a good rain is needed to complete the cleaning process.

CRIPPLED BULLS.

THE CRIPPLED BULLS OF THE UNITED STATES—HISTORY OF THE BULL.

They are the only ones in the world. They are the only ones in the world. They are the only ones in the world.

As far back as my memory goes I have seen the crippled bulls of the United States. They are the only ones in the world. They are the only ones in the world. They are the only ones in the world.

In this vast inclosure of 24,000 acres there are hundreds of them and six miles along the country roads. They are the only ones in the world. They are the only ones in the world. They are the only ones in the world.

In the year 1880, the late Mr. Austin Corbin, who had just fenced his large game park near Newport N. H., established there a herd of about 30 buffalo of the finest stock, with a view to preserving some of the last survivors of a fast-vanishing race from total extinction. They were taken off the cars at Newport and driven between five and six miles along the country roads to the park, to the great astonishment of many of the farmers, who had never seen buffaloes before.

The little herd was allowed to roam at will over Croydon mountain and the plains which surround it for seven months of the year, and during those seven months the animals got their own living, and were no care to any one. But the winters in New Hampshire being long and severe, it was necessary to feed them on hay during the five remaining months, and as a matter of convenience they were yarded during these months in smaller inclosures, near the barns where the hay was stored. All went well with them until 1886, when the herd had increased to 75, and it was decided to ship 25 head to Van Cortlandt park, New York. Owing to bad management these 25 became so diseased that they either died or had to be shot. This constituted the most severe setback which the herd has ever sustained. The 50 which were left in New Hampshire continued to thrive, and in 1895 it again numbered 75, and from that time until the present day they have been a steady increase, and now the herd numbers over 160 as healthy and as handsome buffaloes as ever grazed a western prairie or gladdened the eye of a hungry Indian. Even as I write I see from my window this splendid herd grazing on a hillside not far away, their dark brown bodies in strong relief against the light brown grass. For a month or more they have been wading on the other side of the mountain, but now they are back again, and we shall enjoy the sight of them, perhaps for days to come. Something has started them, for they have stopped grazing and have raised their heads in alarm. And here they come down the mountain side like a charge of cavalry, their tails in the air, and their hump rises and falls as the animals move on with their peculiar bounding movement, which carries them easily forward at a speed with which we should hardly credit such ponderous animals. They come like a landslide, the earth trembles beneath their mighty hoofs, and the sound of their coming is like the roar of an avalanche. As they near the level ground below they gradually slacken their speed the roar of their hoofs beats moderately and dies away, as the buffaloes finally come to a halt on a grassy plain which borders my garden.

IN THE CORBIN PARK

Given one condition—a considerable area of land over which to roam—buffaloes are not difficult animals to keep. They are quite as easy to rear and less expensive to feed than domestic cattle, and in the hands of man profitable enough to stand the initial expense. Buffalo farms could be made profitable in almost any of the states north of those which border on the Gulf. In the first instance, the United States government should be most strongly urged to establish several small herds in different parts of the country, so as to avoid all possible chance of a large number being wiped out at one time by contagious disease. One such herd has already been established in an inclosure in the Yellowstone National park, under the management of Mr. C. J. ("Buffalo") Jones, and this has doubled in numbers in a remarkably short time. If from four to six other herds of 50 or 60 animals each were bought and maintained in the same way the future of the buffalo would be assured, the day would soon return when a buffalo could be bought for less than $150, and the American people would have freed themselves from the charge of having allowed their grandest-looking and most valuable native animal to become extinct.

FREDERICK HAROLD BAYNE

DON'T WAIT

You long to make your

Holiday Purchases

Come while our assortment is complete and we have time to wait on you. We offer a few suggestions that may be helpful in making up your list.

- Cut glass in profusion.
- Royal Vienna Vases.
- Fine hand-painted Plates, Haviland French China dinner Sets.
- Elegant chocolate sets.
- After dinner coffee Sets
- Fancy Japanese ware.
- Cherry Teplitz.
- Everything in 1847 Rogers table ware.
- Pearl handle knives & forks.
- Beautiful carving sets.
- Rochester silver-nickel Chafing dishes, etc.

We offer to the people of Christian county one of the LARGEST and most COMPLETE stocks in the State.

If you do not call and inspect our stock before purchasing YOU will be the loser!

Remember we buy in large quantities, therefore we are able to give our customers the benefit of same!

Miss Mamie Massie, | Frank Pepper,
Saleslady, | Manager,
Cut Glass and China Dept.

Forbes Mfg. Co.

The Home Telephone Co.

Brought to Hopkinsville the advantages of competition. Reduced rates, improved the service and stopped abuses.

THE HOME has distanced the old company in the race for city patronage and is extending its lines into the country. Long distance connection with Guthrie, Clarksville and other Tennessee towns. Will soon.

Cover the Whole Telephone Field.

PATRONIZE THE COMPANY THAT BROUGHT YOU RELIEF. The Best is None Too Good for Hopkinsville.

R. COOPER, Pres.,
F. C. HOGE, Mgr.

A NICE CHRISTMAS PRESENT WOULD BE A YEAR'S TO THE KENTUCKIAN, FOR ONLY $2.00.

50 CITY LOTS GIVEN AWAY

ABSOLUTELY FREE

TO THE FIRST 50 PEOPLE WHO APPLY.

The Oklahoma and Texas Investment Company and the Rock Island R. R. Co. have decided to spend $100,000 in advertising and booming the next GREAT CITY OF THE SOUTHWEST, and in order to quickly interest Southern people the have decided to give away 1,000 city lots to the people of the Central States. They reserve every other lot in each block, and positively give no person more more than one lot. All they ask is that you pay for the making of the deed and abstract.

W. B. Neely,

Room 3, Odd Fellows' Building, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Usefulness In

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

Safety Razors, Pocket Knives, Handsome Box Papers, Bric-a-Bracs, Medallions, Table Sets, Paper Weights, bibles, albums, mirrors, &c.

Let us sell you yours.

Cook & Higgins,
Druggists.

Buyers' Quality.
Both 17 Home, 1215. Main Phones, 1 Cumberland, 58. Street.

KNOWLEDGE IN SMALL DOSES.

Feather will last longer out of water than any other flower.

Paris has 116 inhabitants to the acre, while London has only 51.

Silver money 250 years old is still in circulation in some parts of Spain.

The Sandwich Islanders estimate the beauty of women by their weight.

One of the most poisonous substances known is an extract from pebble stones.

The feathers of the mirasol, an Argentine bird, are worth $1,020 per pound.

The finest shops in a Chinese city are those devoted to the sale of coffins.

The British Isles comprise no fewer than 1,000 separate islands and islets.

Twenty-five per cent. of the population of England have their lives insured.

Four pounds of fresh leaves are required to make one pound of dried tea.

Land in England is worth 300 times as much as it was 200 years ago.

One acre of land will comfortably support four persons on a vegetable diet.

A cork tree is fifty years old before it produces bark of a commercial value.

British colonies are seventy times as large as the area of the United Kingdom.

The average amount of sickness in human life is nine days out of the year.

Her Pink Tea.

It took a good deal of time, I went to see it safely through. It made his social rivals green. And made his husband blue.

Courier-Journal

HOPKINSVILLE CLUB MAY BE DROPPED OUT.

This is the News That Comes From Vincennes, Ind.

LIKE FARNSBAKER.

Clarksville Also to Make Way For Another Illinois Club.

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 23.—An announcement was made here Tuesday that the annual meeting of the K. L. T. Baseball League would be held here January 9. At this meeting the cities of Hopkinsville, Ky., and Clarksville, Tenn., will be dropped and Marion, Ill., and Owensboro, Ky., admitted. The league will then consist of Cairo and Marion, in Illinois, Owensboro, Henderson and Paducah in Kentucky and Vincennes in this state.

This story reads like a concoction of Farnsaker, of Cairo, who has been trying all the fall to organize a league with Cairo as the dominating influence. Ever since he was removed as secretary and was thwarted by the other clubs in his attempt to deprive Paducah of the pennant last season, he has been very sore and very resentful. From the best information obtainable, there is no truth in the fishy story sent out from Vincennes. Hopkinsville, Clarksville, Henderson and Paducah, a two-thirds majority of the clubs in the K. L. T. League, will stand together and Owensboro, if let in, will be with them also. To drop Clarksville would destroy the League name, as there is but one Tennessee club in the League. Farnsaker is probably trying to fix up a club that would elect him President.

Married Again.

Mr. Dora Clay Brock, the child wife of the late Gen. Cassius M. Clay, has been influenced by the sly little cupid to again enter the matrimonial whirl. Samuel Thomas, of Valley View, is the fortunate young gentleman and third husband. Her second husband was Riley Brock, also a resident of Valley View who was killed in a railroad accident.

Will Preach at Paducah.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 21.—The Rev. T. F. Richie, of Princeton, has accepted the pastorate of the East Baptist church here and assumes charge at once. The Rev. Richie has been holding a revival at the church and made such a good impression that the congregation called him.

BARNES BRIEFS.

Marriage of Young People Near Crofton.

Barnes, Ky., Dec. 23.—Mr. Ben Anderson and family will leave for Illinois Sunday, where they will make their future home.

Mr. Leslie Haddock and sister, Miss Pearl, visited the family of their uncle, Mr. Harry Haddock, last Thursday night.

Mr. Tom West and Miss Flora Ford were married at the residence of Rev. P. A. Thomas last Wednesday evening.

Mr. E. M. Barnes had a very valuable catch of fish Wednesday.

Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. E. B. Bolds, of Hopkinsville, have been visiting in this vicinity.

Miss Bina King spent last Saturday and Sunday at home.

HONEY BEE.

Congressional Vote in Kentucky.

The following was the vote in the Congressional districts of Kentucky for Congressmen, as officially declared, at the recent election:

	Dem.	Rep.
First district	23,558	13,765
Second district	20,732	16,517
Third district	15,432	18,232
Fourth district	21,573	19,415
Fifth district	23,712	22,230
Sixth district	18,554	16,089
Seventh district	20,556	18,187
Eighth district	16,351	14,536
Ninth district	21,291	21,235
Tenth district	19,154	17,736
Eleventh district	13,200	31,349

Dog Swallowed $10.00.

"Bull," the favorite dog of Jas. Boyd, of Wingo, increased his value $10 Tuesday. While counting his money Mr. Boyd dropped a $10 bill. Bull quickly grabbed it up and swallowed it. The dog was immediately given a strong emetic, but stubbornly refused to "cough up." Mr. Boyd thinks a whole lot of his dog, but says that he can not afford to give him many such expensive dinners.—Mayfield Messenger.

Unfortunate.

"E" is the most unfortunate letter in the English alphabet, because it is never in cash, always in debt and never out of danger, yet the aforesaid letter is never in war, yet always in peace; it is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no bread, no meat, no water, no life, no gospel, no father, no mother, no brother, no earth, no heaven or hell.—Ex.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Corrected Each Issue by W. D. Cooper, Broker.

	WHEAT	OPEN	HIGH	LOW	CLOSE
Dec.	111	112 1/2	113	112 1/2	113
May	111 1/2	112 1/2	113 1/2	113 1/2	113 1/2
CORN
Dec.	46	46 1/4	46 1/2	46 1/4	46 1/2
May	45 1/2	45 1/2	45 1/2	45 1/2	46 1/2
OATS
Dec.	29 1/2	29 1/2	29 1/2	29 1/2	29 1/2
May	31 1/2	31 1/2	31 1/2	31 1/2	31 1/2

CHADWICK FINANCIERING DISCUSSED.

Baldheaded Club Holds Interesting Meeting With Col. Woodbridge in Chair.

TALKS ABOUT BANKERS.

Explained How She Got Rich Quick at the Expense of Money Lenders.

order Saturday night. The gallant Colonel was still swelled with pride over his poetical achievement at the previous meeting, when he knocked out his ancient rival, Col. Bill Cooper, and three or four others with a poem right off the reel, constructed in the mental workshop under his polished dome of thought.

"I hated to beat that bunch so bad," said Col. Woodbridge, in telling it to his best girl the next day, "but I just couldn't help it. It was like taking candy from a lot of babies or borrowing money from an Obergin banker. There is nothing doing with that outfit when it comes to brain work. I've a great mind to write a sure enough poem some day, when I've got time to think, and dedicate it to my friend, Teddy Roosevelt."

Col. Woodbridge was in an especially happy frame of mind, and evidently wanted to talk. "While we are waiting for Col. Walter Garnett to arrive," said he, "I think I will make a few incongruous remarks for the good of the order."

At this juncture, Col. Bill Howell leaned over and said: "Bob, before you begin, I wish you'd lend me a chaw of tobacco."

"Certainly," said Col. Woodbridge, "but that reminds me that they have a woman named Mrs. Chadwick in jail at Cleveland for borrowing more money than she could pay back. I don't know that she ever borrowed any tobacco," said he, fixing his eye upon Col. Howell and watching him quail like a partridge under the glance, "but a tobacco man's stock in trade is tobacco, as a banker's stock is money."

If you happen to want to make any more Chadwick investments, Colonel, I will have to ask you to get the real Andrew Carnegie to endorse your collateral."

Col. Joe P. Pool laughed so boisterously at this joke that Col. Howell threatened to knock a peck of "beats" out of his name.

Col. Green Champlin arose in that quick, energetic way of his and asked Col. Woodbridge to explain how the lady got in jail for borrowing money.

"Why it was just this way," said Col. Woodbridge, "Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, an ambitious married lady in Cleveland, Ohio, whose husband didn't furnish her with all the money she could spend, got up a get-rich-quick scheme of her own. Nobody knew her, or where she came from, and she had no relatives except one dead uncle. She fixed up a certificate to the effect that Andrew Carnegie held $7,000,000 of investments for her, left to her by her uncle who worried himself to death trying to take care of more money than one man could handle. The Andrew Carnegie who signed it has not turned up yet—perhaps he lives in some remote backwoods village like Clarksville, or is lost in the wilds of some great city like Hopkinsville and has not yet heard that he is wanted. At any rate Mrs. Chadwick, knowing that a sucker is born every minute and that the fool-kicker recently tried on Lake Michigan was a failure, began to look about for an opening. Just as Col. Howell comes to me when he wants tobacco, she decided that the place to get money was from people who had money. As all bankers are not bad headed men and up to snuff like Col. Ira Smith for instance, (bowing to Col. Smith who blushed clear back to his rear collar-button) she picks out a lot of country bankers whose development was on the outside and showed them Andrew Carnegie's certificate. They never questioned for a moment that there was any doubt about the securities and during the several years Mrs. Chadwick got rich at their expense, not one of them ever thought it worth while to write to the Pittsburgh Carnegie, in an adjoining state, to let him know that every day was a busy day with Cassie-buy-anchor, who had cast anchor in Ohio and was standing on a burning deck of busted banks waiting for her dead uncle to arrive. The bank presidents tumbled over each other to lend her money and pulled her in the scramble for her deposits. She borrowed from one to deposit with another and struck them every few days for $50,000 or $100,000 for pocket change until her dividends fell due. She took an excursion of Cleveland belles to Europe at her own expense and took such good care of them that every one of them escaped the swarms of counts, earls and princes on the lookout for American wives. She clothed her cook in sealskins, papered her rooms with $100 bills and put diamond pendants on her chandeliers, and the more she spent the bigger loans the bankers thrust upon her. But after a while," said Col. Woodbridge, "the fever like the smallpox ran its course and some of the bankers began to figure up for the January statement soon to be made. Then they discovered that Cassie had their money and they had a surplus of experience. The books would not balance and Cassie is in jail."

Col. Champlin said he failed to see what offense she had committed. It looked to him like she was a mighty smart woman.

Col. Bill Tibbs said he noticed that Judge Swayne, of Florida, had been impeached for playing his expense limit of $10 a day when his actual expenses were $2.50 a day. By this means he had managed to supplement his $5,000 salary, to the extent of $1,500 or $2,000 a year and kept the wolf from the door, until he violated the eleventh commandment: "Thou shalt not get caught." Both houses of Congress are after the Judge, one to prosecute and the other to try, and he is liable to lose his job."

The discussion of current topics was cut short by the entrance of Col. George Gary, who was just up from a long illness. The members all gathered around him to tell him how glad they were to have him back and how greatly they had missed him. While shaking hands with him Col. Bill Howell asked him for a chew of tobacco, but Col. Gary told him he did not chew and begged him to accept a ten-cent cigar which he happened to have. Col. Howell accepted the cigar and borrowing a match from Col. John Galbreath proceeded to light it.

Col. P. C. Richardson, who seldom makes a speech, moved that the acting President issue a proclamation setting apart next Sunday as Christmas.

Col. Woodbridge ruled the motion out of order, explaining that the almanac man had already attended to the matter.

The petition of Dr. A. A. Bailey was received and referred to the Committee on Barren Landscapes.

Col. Woodbridge said he hoped all the members would be present at the next meeting, at which time the annual election of officers would be held. The meeting then adjourned.

MR. A. Y. FORD

Will Probably be Elected Librarian of the Louisville Library.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 20.—The committee from the Louisville Free Public Library to select the successor to Mr. Anderson H. Hopkins, who resigned his position here to become librarian of the Carnegie library at Pittsburgh, is considering among other names that of Mr. Arthur Y. Ford, managing editor of the Courier-Journal and president of the Kentucky Exhibit Association.

While the nomination will probably be deferred for some time, it is thought that Mr. Ford will be the successful candidate.

As librarian Mr. Ford would receive $3,600 salary, which would be an increase over that paid by his present position.

HORSE SHEDS 60c PER SET.

FORBES MANUFACTURING CO.

To the Public!

Having bought the magnificent McKee stock of GROCERIES,

Very cheap, I am prepared to sell them at ridiculously low prices, and will continue to do so until same is closed out. Very Respectfully,

L. H. McKee,
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

J. C. Buckner. Jas. West.

Buckner & West,
Exclusive handlers of the Celebrated Rosecreek Coal.

13th and Railroad Streets.
Phones—Cumberland 76, Home 1544. MAKES MANY WARM FRIENDS.

To the Public.

I invite all who are in need of

Furniture, Stoves, Clocks, Matting, Rugs, Blankets, Pictures, Comforts

And so on, to see me. If you need a new stove and haven't enough money come to me and pay what you have and I will give you time on the balance.

H. L. Harton,
Ninth Street—Postoffice Block.

Brame's Stable.

(SUCCESSOR TO GOLAY & BRAME.)

Livery and Feed Stable.

Cor. 7th and Virginia Streets.

For a nice coal drive, Up-to-Date Higs and courteous attention, give me a call. Hack service or the city—meeting all trains, funeral and wedding work a specialty. Home Phone 1313 Cumberland Phone 25. I will be glad to have all my friends give me their patronage.

HOWARD BRAME, Hopkinsville, Ky.

JAPANESE IVORY CARVERS.

Young Oriental Transplanting One of Fine Arts of His Country to American Soil.

New York—Up to a tall building of New York City where many artists have their studios, a young Japanese named Mogi is transplanting one of the fine arts of Japan and raising it to flourish under American conditions, says a special from this city to the Chicago Journal. From this shop issue some of the daintiest works of ivory ever seen in this country. Mogi does not think it necessary to have his designs copyrighted. He considers the work of his hands, and utilizes the two assistants, Miki and Sango, incapable of duplication.

The circumstances under which Mogi came to America are somewhat romantic. His father is ivory carver to the mikado. His grandfather held the same position. In fact, this talent has run in the family for generations.

NEW ART IN AMERICA.
Japanese Ivory Carvers at Work in New York City.

When Mogi was 18 an American traveler in Japan found him eager to travel and see other lands and peoples. This American had tried many times to persuade some Japanese artist to ivory to come to the United States, but none of them wanted to leave his home and friends and go among strangers. Besides, the government which protects and fosters art—even more earnestly than does the government of France or any other European country—would not permit an artist to go from Japan on a pure venture.

The American traveler appealed to the government, and brought strong influence to bear. Then the government wanted to be assured that Mogi would be so well cared for, if he came to this country. So cable messages were sent to Washington, and telegrams from Washington to New York, and when it had been learned, beyond question, that Mogi's welfare was assured, permission was at last given for him to travel.

To aid him in his work, Mogi brought with him models of designs drawn on thin rice paper. They illustrate the legends which are as old as Japan itself.

IN THE MONTH OF JULY.

Notable Birthdays and Anniversaries of Historic Interest Are Numerous.

To persons who like to keep track of notable birthdays and other anniversaries the month of July affords abundant material for study and reflection, says the Boston Transcript. The day we celebrate is not the only July day on which epoch-making events have occurred, for in July the "Invincible Armada" was destroyed and the Atlantic cable was completed. Nor is this the birth month of Hawthorne alone, but of Stoddard and Thoreau and Thackeray, of Sarah Siddons and Charlotte Cushman, of Rembrandt and Sir Joshua Reynolds, of Timothy Pickering and John Quincy Adams, of John Calvin, Isaac Watts and George Fox. It was in July, moreover, that Champlain planted Quebec. Five years hence the time will be ripe to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary, and the summer climate of Quebec will make it a pleasure as well as a duty to "celebrate." As for us we may take it that the July thermometer absolves us from showing enthusiasm of the energetic sort on any day besides the Fourth.

Knights of Labor.

The Knights of Labor—once so powerful—still exist with a membership of about 40,000.—Trade Journal.

Must Be Sensible.

A pretty girl makes a mistake if she thinks that because she is a pretty she doesn't need to be sensible as well.—Somerville Journal.

FOX'S BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Book-Keeping, Shorthand and Typewriting.

ONE MONTH FREE!

Those who are interested and will send in their names before Dec. 30th, will be entitled to one month tuition free, to Day Class, Night Class or Home Study Course, in order to test the competency of the teachers and to ascertain whether or not it would pay them to continue under the inducement offered by the Employment Department.

Ten dollars after one month of experience and forty dollars after the course has been completed. For further particulars address

Hampton Fox, CORNER OF MAIN AND FIFTH STREETS, Hopkinsville, Ky.

CALL ON P. J. BRESLIN,

No. 4, Sixth Street Opposite the Court House.

For

Fire-works of All Kinds, Fresh home-made Candies, Oranges, Bananas, Apples, Dates, Figs, Raisins, Currants, Nuts of all kinds. I make a specialty of putting up

Fruit Baskets and Candy Boxes

For the holiday trade. Give me a call.

P. J. Breslin,
No. 4, Sixth St.

Wall Paper

I have just received two large shipments of new Wall Paper, ranging in prices from 3c to 25c per roll; which places me in a position to offer some Great Bargains.

If you are in need of Wall Paper it will pay you to see my stock and get prices before you buy.

My stock of all kinds of House-furnishings is complete in every line and prices right.

Jack Meador,
No. 8, Main Street.

BOYD & POOL

BARBERS,
7th Street, Hopkinsville, Ky.
Special Attention given to Patrons, Clean Shaves, Satisfactory Service. Call and be convinced.
Bath Rooms in Connection
Boys 25 cents.
Leave Orders for POOL'S ORCHESTRA.

An Early Xmas Gift.

What could be more appropriate or beneficial than to send home for a Christmas present a good, nice cooking or heating stove? This would insure your Xmas dinner being cooked properly, and these done meals are enjoyed. And if you have cold feet buy one of our fine heating stoves, it will do away with this complaint.

Planter's Hardware Co.

The plated ware that has the art and finish of Sterling is

COMMUNITY SILVER

This ware is like Sterling because its patterns are clear and sharp, with fine line detail and high finish. It is finished like Sterling, either in "bright" or in the rich French gray effect, which sets off to great advantage the "style" and beauty of the deepest designs. Like Sterling, it is packed in dainty white boxes with white silk linings.

Community Silver is more than triple plated and is guaranteed for twenty-five years. We sell it at slightly more than the price of ordinary plate.

For Sale by Jas. H. Skarry,
The Ninth Street Jeweler and Optician.

TWO TIME TABLE
No. 33, Daily
Ar. Memphis	9:40 a. m.
Ar. Paducah	7:40
Ar. Louisville	9:25
Ar. Chicago	11:15
Ar. St. Louis	1:10 p. m.
Ar. Kansas City	7:50
No. 34, Daily
Ar. Memphis	11:20 a. m.
Ar. Paducah	11:15
Ar. Louisville	6:00
Ar. Chicago	8:25
Ar. St. Louis	10:15
Ar. Kansas City	12:15 p. m.
Ar. Paducah	2:45
Ar. Louisville	4:15
Ar. Memphis	6:15
Ar. New Orleans	10:00 a. m.

No. 340—Daily
Ar. Hopkinsville	4:50 p. m.
Ar. Princeton	6:20
Ar. Princeton	7:50 a. m.
Ar. Louisville	2:55
Ar. Princeton	2:35
Ar. Memphis	8:25
Ar. New Orleans	7:55 p. m.

No. 341, daily arrives, 9:40 a. m.
No. 333, daily	3:50 p. m.
No. 331, daily	3:50 p. m.
F. W. HARLOW, D. P. A.	Louisville
E. F. COON, Agent,	Hopkinsville.

L. & N. Time Table.

GOING NORTH.
No. 52—St. Louis Express	9:41 a. m.
No. 64—St. Louis Fast Mail	10:10 a. m.
No. 92—Chi. & St. Lou. Lim.	5:40 a. m.
No. 66—Hopkinsville	8:45 p. m.
GOING SOUTH.
No. 51—St. Louis Express	5:18 p. m.
No. 65—St. Lou. Fast Mail	5:40 p. m.
No. 93—Chi. & N. O. Lim.	12:01 a. m.
No. 66—Hopkinsville	8:40 a. m.
No. 52 & 51 connect at St. Louis for all points west.
No. 51 connects at Memphis for Louisville, Cincinnati and St. Louis.
No. 52 & 51 connect at St. Louis for all points west.
No. 51 connects at Memphis for Louisville, Cincinnati and St. Louis.
No. 51, through sleepers to Atlanta, Macon, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Tampa, Fla. Also through sleepers to New Orleans. Connects at Memphis for St. Louis and will not carry passengers to points South of Evansville. Also connects through sleepers to St. Louis.
No. 51, through sleepers to Atlanta, Macon, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Tampa, Fla. Also through sleepers to New Orleans. Connects at Memphis for St. Louis and will not carry passengers to points South of Evansville. Also connects through sleepers to St. Louis.

Tennessee Central R. R. Time Table

Effective Sunday, June 5, 1904
TRAIN NO. 1, DAILY—PASSENGER.
Lv. Hopkinsville	6:15 a. m.
Ar. Clarksville	7:22 a. m.
Ar. Ashland City	8:22 a. m.
Ar. Nashville	9:40 a. m.
TRAIN NO. 3, DAILY—PASSENGER.
Lv. Hopkinsville	4:15 p. m.
Ar. Clarksville	5:20 p. m.
Ar. Ashland City	6:32 p. m.
Ar. Nashville	7:45 p. m.
Passenger Trains Arrive at Hopkinsville:
No. 4, Daily	11:15 a. m.
No. 2	8:30 p. m.
Connections: At Nashville with L. & N. & C. & St. L. Ry. at Clarksville with L. & N. & C. & St. L. Ry. at Ashland City with L. & N. & C. & St. L. Ry.
E. H. HINTON, Traffic Manager,	Hopkinsville, Ky.
E. F. COON, Agent,	Hopkinsville, Ky.

Professional Cards

FRANK RIVES
Attorney-at-Law.
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.
Will Practice in all the Courts.

G. H. TANDY.
DENTIST.
Office over First National Bank.
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

DRS. OLDHAM,
Osteopathic Physicians.
Graduates under the founder of the science.
Office 701 South Clay St. Consultation and examination free. Phone 364. Home Phone 1612.

W. W. GRAY,
Tonsorial Artist.
207 Seventh street, Ebb Building.
Clean shaves and everything else.
Call. Give us a call.

MADAME DEAN'S FRENCH FEMALE PILLS.
A Safe, Painless Remedy for Female Disorders.
Cures all the most distressing and dangerous ailments of the female system. Sold everywhere. Beware of cheap imitations. Genuine French Female Pills. Made in France. Sold by all druggists.
WHOLESALE DEPOT: 107 N. LAUREL ST., ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE YENGEANCE OF SPANHOPE

By J. J. ALLEN.

"You wouldn't look that mad if you hadn't been told you?"

"My ex-servant, Stanhope, made this remark as we sat in the dining-car of the Albany. He spoke indifferently, almost languidly, as was his way. The man to whom he referred had left the car as we entered it. Indeed, I had almost knocked against him, upon which he had apologized profusely. He was a little man of about 40 years of age, of dandified appearance, precise in dress and manner. His hands were elegantly gloved, and the delicate odor of some fashionable perfume enveloped him.

I glanced after the retreating figure of the dapper little man, and then laughed incredulously. I liked Yeo for his originality, his cleverness and his easy-going disposition, but in his mania for criminal investigation I always found a subject for ridicule.

I looked at my companion inquiringly. I was still incredulous, but also a little interested and curious in spite of myself.

"Three years ago," Yeo continued, "Mrs. Moreton, formerly prominent in New York society, was missed from her home; two days after her body was found in the Hudson. Last April a middle-aged man—Harold Armitage by name, a struggling lawyer with a shady reputation—was found dead in the street. It was found that he had died from the effects of poison, presumably administered by his own hand. Well, both these persons were murdered, and Moulley Grey, a man of some means and of considerable standing in New York and Boston societies, was the perpetrator of both crimes."

"How do you know?"

"Because I studied both cases exhaustively," he said, leaning back in the corner of the car and watching the thin smoke curl from the end of his cigarette. "The inquiry into the first case cost me over $5,000. The second case was simpler, and, so far, I have not expended more than a thousand upon it. You think me extravagant; but, tell me, could I get so much keen intellectual enjoyment for the money?"

"The one little mystery in Mrs. Moreton's simple life was her correspondence with Leonard Armitage, a former sweetheart who had become a millionaire in South America. This I learned through an agent I sent to Valparaiso. And the day I learned this the body of Armitage's brother was found in New York. Further, Moulley Grey had called on both just before their deaths."

"Well," I said, shortly, "I don't think you ought to let a man like that be at large when you have the power to lodge him in jail. Why, even now he may be plotting another dastardly crime."

Yeo laughed lightly.

"No, no, old chap, I fancy he must be a dead weight," he replied. "And then the conversation turned on the more agreeable subject of his approaching marriage."

We had been staying for a fortnight at the place of one of Yeo's friends, near Albany, with whom Lucille Meadows, to whom Stanhope was engaged, was living. Lucille was an orphan and penniless, but a beautiful girl, and when I was introduced to her I was not surprised that my wealthy friend had fallen a victim to her charms.

Two days before our departure from New York Miss Meadows had been called away to visit a sick friend some 20 miles down the line, and Yeo was in a bad humor, because she had not returned before we were compelled to leave. We discussed the young woman's merits, or, rather, I listened to his remarks concerning her, during the rest of our journey to town.

When we parted it was arranged that we should see one another on the morrow or the next day. "I was to be Stanhope's best man and a meeting was necessary for the discussion of the final arrangements."

Yeo was to meet me sooner than I had expected, however. I was still yawning late in the morning in my chambers when Yeo burst into the room in a state of much unusual excitement.

"What's up?"

"Simply a splendid case," he cried. "A mysterious railway murder, girl on the very train we came down by killed near the station where she left the train. No clues; police completely at fault. Come with me to view the body. Upon my word, this case looks promising. The kind of a case that a man of my ability might devote himself to."

"Don't forget you are to be married next Monday," I said.

"Of course," he cried; "but we have six clear days. I'll guarantee to find a clue in half that time. Come!"

The light laugh sounded discordantly in my ears as we entered the deadhouse.

Having explained our business, we were conducted into the gloomy chamber. Yeo, full of professional eagerness, did not seem in the least impressed, and followed the attendant briskly to the farther side of the chamber.

With his own hand he lifted the sheet from the face of the victim, and glanced keenly at the distorted features.

"Do you recognize her?" said the man.

Yeo made no answer, but stood like a statue, the corner of the sheet still held tightly in his right hand.

"Good heaven!" I gasped. "It is Lucille!"

Stanhope Yeo replaced the covering reverently over the poor white face, and then, taking me by the arm, led me out of the building.

Arrived in the street, we walked some minutes in silence. Then he spoke, and his voice was gentle and subdued.

"I wonder if she suffered much pain. His fingers must have gripped her throat, and then tightened slowly—slowly, till she died. She did not scream, and hardly made a sound, but the veins on her forehead grew bigger and bigger, and her eyes glared with horror. Then when it was all over, he left her body in the alleyway, and drew his light tan gloves over his scented hands. You remember the scent—heliotropes, I think?"

He spoke throughout in the same calm voice, looking fixedly in front of him, but seeing nothing. "Poor heaven's sake, man, fold yourself together!" I managed to ejaculate; "we must do something."

"To be sure, we must do something; but we must inform the police and her friends. And then we will go to the funeral, and after that—"

He did not finish the sentence, but I saw his face harden.

Soon afterwards we parted. Both of us, I think, were eager to be alone for awhile. When I called at his flat the next day, however, I discovered that he had not yet returned, and, indeed, three months passed before I saw him again.

Meanwhile the police had made several arrests, and had followed many false clues, but the murderer was still at large. The matter was beginning to be forgotten.

Three months—within a day or two—after the murder I was startled by a visit from Yeo.

He was thinner than I had ever seen him before; his face was drawn, and a dull fire seemed to be glowing in his eyes, but he was quite self-possessed and master of himself.

"I thought you might like to be in at the death," Moulley Grey is to be arrested to-morrow."

"What?" cried I, excitedly. "Have you convinced the detectives?"

"At last," he said; "and I'll confess that when I had once convinced them that I was on the right scent they did not let the grass grow under their feet."

"My first step," he said, in his old quiet way, as he looked dreamily into the fire, "was to find out if Lucille was in any way connected with old Leonard Armitage, the South American millionaire. That Moulley Grey had killed the brother and the old sweetheart of Armitage I was convinced. He was in the train when Lucille was murdered. If I could discover that she was also connected with this terrible millionaire I should have pretty conclusive proof that Yeo was at the bottom of this crime also. Well, I did not have to inquire far," he went on, gloomily.

Lucille, as you know, was an orphan and had no relatives in this country. An uncle of hers, however, had gone abroad some 15 years ago. His name was Leon and Armitage."

"Good heavens!" I gasped; "you don't mean to say he has employed detectives to commit all these crimes?"

"Wait a bit. I am coming to that. My agent from Valparaiso sent me another batch of notes on the case. At this stage a man named Miguel Romero comes upon the scene. He was Leonard Armitage's private secretary and confidential friend. I think I told you before that Armitage appeared to have only three correspondents in the United States—Mrs. Moreton, Harold Armitage, lawyer, and Moulley Grey. Well, it appears that only one of these people did the millionaire ever write personally. That was Mrs. Moreton. The letters to his brother and to Yeo were always written by the secretary—or, at least, the addresses on the envelopes were written by Romero. That much my agent discovered."

"The next incident was the sudden death of Leonard Armitage. The day after another letter was sent by Miguel Romero to Moulley Grey."

"The next piece of news was that Armitage had left all his wealth to his secretary and friend, Miguel Romero."

"Good heaven!" I gasped. "It is Lucille!"

Stanhope Yeo replaced the covering reverently over the poor white face, and then, taking me by the arm, led me out of the building.

Arrived in the street, we walked some minutes in silence. Then he spoke, and his voice was gentle and subdued.

"I wonder if she suffered much pain. His fingers must have gripped her throat, and then tightened slowly—slowly, till she died. She did not scream, and hardly made a sound, but the veins on her forehead grew bigger and bigger, and her eyes glared with horror. Then when it was all over, he left her body in the alleyway, and drew his light tan gloves over his scented hands. You remember the scent—heliotropes, I think?"

He spoke throughout in the same calm voice, looking fixedly in front of him, but seeing nothing. "Poor heaven's sake, man, fold yourself together!" I managed to ejaculate; "we must do something."

"To be sure, we must do something; but we must inform the police and her friends. And then we will go to the funeral, and after that—"

He did not finish the sentence, but I saw his face harden.

Soon afterwards we parted. Both of us, I think, were eager to be alone for awhile. When I called at his flat the next day, however, I discovered that he had not yet returned, and, indeed, three months passed before I saw him again.

Meanwhile the police had made several arrests, and had followed many false clues, but the murderer was still at large. The matter was beginning to be forgotten.

Three months—within a day or two—after the murder I was startled by a visit from Yeo.

He was thinner than I had ever seen him before; his face was drawn, and a dull fire seemed to be glowing in his eyes, but he was quite self-possessed and master of himself.

"I thought you might like to be in at the death," Moulley Grey is to be arrested to-morrow."

"What?" cried I, excitedly. "Have you convinced the detectives?"

"At last," he said; "and I'll confess that when I had once convinced them that I was on the right scent they did not let the grass grow under their feet."

"My first step," he said, in his old quiet way, as he looked dreamily into the fire, "was to find out if Lucille was in any way connected with old Leonard Armitage, the South American millionaire. That Moulley Grey had killed the brother and the old sweetheart of Armitage I was convinced. He was in the train when Lucille was murdered. If I could discover that she was also connected with this terrible millionaire I should have pretty conclusive proof that Yeo was at the bottom of this crime also. Well, I did not have to inquire far," he went on, gloomily.

Lucille, as you know, was an orphan and had no relatives in this country. An uncle of hers, however, had gone abroad some 15 years ago. His name was Leon and Armitage."

"Good heavens!" I gasped; "you don't mean to say he has employed detectives to commit all these crimes?"

"Wait a bit. I am coming to that. My agent from Valparaiso sent me another batch of notes on the case. At this stage a man named Miguel Romero comes upon the scene. He was Leonard Armitage's private secretary and confidential friend. I think I told you before that Armitage appeared to have only three correspondents in the United States—Mrs. Moreton, Harold Armitage, lawyer, and Moulley Grey. Well, it appears that only one of these people did the millionaire ever write personally. That was Mrs. Moreton. The letters to his brother and to Yeo were always written by the secretary—or, at least, the addresses on the envelopes were written by Romero. That much my agent discovered."

"The next incident was the sudden death of Leonard Armitage. The day after another letter was sent by Miguel Romero to Moulley Grey."

"The next piece of news was that Armitage had left all his wealth to his secretary and friend, Miguel Romero."

"Good heaven!" I gasped. "It is Lucille!"

Lucille, as you know, was an orphan and had no relatives in this country. An uncle of hers, however, had gone abroad some 15 years ago. His name was Leon and Armitage."

"Good heavens!" I gasped; "you don't mean to say he has employed detectives to commit all these crimes?"

"Wait a bit. I am coming to that. My agent from Valparaiso sent me another batch of notes on the case. At this stage a man named Miguel Romero comes upon the scene. He was Leonard Armitage's private secretary and confidential friend. I think I told you before that Armitage appeared to have only three correspondents in the United States—Mrs. Moreton, Harold Armitage, lawyer, and Moulley Grey. Well, it appears that only one of these people did the millionaire ever write personally. That was Mrs. Moreton. The letters to his brother and to Yeo were always written by the secretary—or, at least, the addresses on the envelopes were written by Romero. That much my agent discovered."

"The next incident was the sudden death of Leonard Armitage. The day after another letter was sent by Miguel Romero to Moulley Grey."

"The next piece of news was that Armitage had left all his wealth to his secretary and friend, Miguel Romero."

"Good heaven!" I gasped. "It is Lucille!"

Stanhope Yeo replaced the covering reverently over the poor white face, and then, taking me by the arm, led me out of the building.

Arrived in the street, we walked some minutes in silence. Then he spoke, and his voice was gentle and subdued.

"I wonder if she suffered much pain. His fingers must have gripped her throat, and then tightened slowly—slowly, till she died. She did not scream, and hardly made a sound, but the veins on her forehead grew bigger and bigger, and her eyes glared with horror. Then when it was all over, he left her body in the alleyway, and drew his light tan gloves over his scented hands. You remember the scent—heliotropes, I think?"

He spoke throughout in the same calm voice, looking fixedly in front of him, but seeing nothing. "Poor heaven's sake, man, fold yourself together!" I managed to ejaculate; "we must do something."

"To be sure, we must do something; but we must inform the police and her friends. And then we will go to the funeral, and after that—"

He did not finish the sentence, but I saw his face harden.

Soon afterwards we parted. Both of us, I think, were eager to be alone for awhile. When I called at his flat the next day, however, I discovered that he had not yet returned, and, indeed, three months passed before I saw him again.

Meanwhile the police had made several arrests, and had followed many false clues, but the murderer was still at large. The matter was beginning to be forgotten.

Three months—within a day or two—after the murder I was startled by a visit from Yeo.

He was thinner than I had ever seen him before; his face was drawn, and a dull fire seemed to be glowing in his eyes, but he was quite self-possessed and master of himself.

"I thought you might like to be in at the death," Moulley Grey is to be arrested to-morrow."

"What?" cried I, excitedly. "Have you convinced the detectives?"

"At last," he said; "and I'll confess that when I had once convinced them that I was on the right scent they did not let the grass grow under their feet."

"My first step," he said, in his old quiet way, as he looked dreamily into the fire, "was to find out if Lucille was in any way connected with old Leonard Armitage, the South American millionaire. That Moulley Grey had killed the brother and the old sweetheart of Armitage I was convinced. He was in the train when Lucille was murdered. If I could discover that she was also connected with this terrible millionaire I should have pretty conclusive proof that Yeo was at the bottom of this crime also. Well, I did not have to inquire far," he went on, gloomily.

Lucille, as you know, was an orphan and had no relatives in this country. An uncle of hers, however, had gone abroad some 15 years ago. His name was Leon and Armitage."

"Good heavens!" I gasped; "you don't mean to say he has employed detectives to commit all these crimes?"

"Wait a bit. I am coming to that. My agent from Valparaiso sent me another batch of notes on the case. At this stage a man named Miguel Romero comes upon the scene. He was Leonard Armitage's private secretary and confidential friend. I think I told you before that Armitage appeared to have only three correspondents in the United States—Mrs. Moreton, Harold Armitage, lawyer, and Moulley Grey. Well, it appears that only one of these people did the millionaire ever write personally. That was Mrs. Moreton. The letters to his brother and to Yeo were always written by the secretary—or, at least, the addresses on the envelopes were written by Romero. That much my agent discovered."

"The next incident was the sudden death of Leonard Armitage. The day after another letter was sent by Miguel Romero to Moulley Grey."

"The next piece of news was that Armitage had left all his wealth to his secretary and friend, Miguel Romero."

"Good heaven!" I gasped. "It is Lucille!"

Gunther's Fine Candies.

We have just secured the exclusive agency in Hopkinsville for GUNTHER'S HIGH GRADE CANDIES and will receive a large shipment of these goods direct from the factory this week.

There is None Better.

The reputation of Gunther's Candies is too well known and established to require a lengthy appeal as to their quality. There's none better on the market, and we will have a full assortment of packages ranging from one half to five pounds. Don't pay fancy and exorbitant prices for other candies when you can get Gunther's for 60c lb.

Ray & Fowler.

Who Presses Your Clothes?

When You Want Good Pressing and Cheap Prices, CALL ON W. A. McPHERSON, Who Makes a Specialty of Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing.

Special attention given to cleaning and pressing Ladies' Skirts. PHOENIX BUILDING, 9TH ST. PHONE 'PHONE NO. 1146.

DON'T GO IT BLIND

When buying Life Insurance. A search with OPEN EYES will satisfy you the policies of this company contain SPECIAL and PECULIAR advantages not COMBINED in the policies of other companies.

Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

OF NEWARK, NEW JERSEY. Specimen Policy Furnished on Application. W. W. DENNIS & CO., STATE AGENTS. 308 WEST MAIN, LOUISVILLE, KY. WALLACE & MOORE, Agents, Hopkinsville, Ky.

WHITE'S Cream Vermifuge

THE GUARANTEED WORM REMEDY

THE CHILDREN'S FAVORITE TONIC. BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. THE GENUINE PREPARED ONLY BY Ballard-Snow Linctum Co. ST. LOUIS, MO.

WE WISH YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

~~~~~WE ARE~~~~~

Ready For the Holidays

Good Things Here for Everybody. Don't Delay, Begin Your Christmas shopping Now,

AND PLEASING GIFTS CAN BE SELECTED FROM OUR SPLENDID STOCK.

We extend a hearty invitation to you to come and see our complete and interesting stock of goods.

What Shall I Give?

Read this over carefully and make your selections early and the task is done. Possibly John needs a new hat or a pair of shoes, father a new suit or overcoat, mother a warm wrap, sister a new dress or grandma a pair of slippers. We have many useful things that we cannot begin to name them all, but do say, come to this store and we will help you make your selection. Do you realize that you, too, will be doubly happy by making such purchases—making others happy and getting big value here for your money. We will be glad to have you trade here, where your money counts for its true worth.

Furs! Furs! Furs!

Make your mother or sister a nice present of a fine set of Furs while you can buy them at holiday prices. Our prices will please you if you will pay us a visit.

From $1.25 to $5, and $1.25 to $10.

And you can get the very best grade of Furs at these prices and the latest styles. See our line before buying.

Holiday Prices Dress Goods

You can find anything you could wish for in our large stock of Dress goods, so get our prices before buying elsewhere. We will give you holiday prices.

Do You Want to Buy a Dress?
See Our Prices.

|                                                            |        |
|------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| 56-inch all wool Broad Cloth in all colors, is sold every- | $1.00 |
| at $1.50 and $2 per yard, we sell for only               |        |
| 56-inch Cecilian in blue, red and brown and black, that    | .65    |
| is sold for $1.00 per yard, we will sell you for          |        |
| Black all wool Serge, 56 inches wide, worth $1.50 per     | .75    |
| yard, we will sell for                                     |        |
| All wool Ziberlines in brown, blue, black and gray, 36     | .50    |
| inches wide, we will sell for only                         |        |

Ladies' Cloaks, Tailored Suits & Skirts.

SOME good things for yourself or another as a Christmas gift. We are also making very attractive prices just now in Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Garments.

We will sell all our Ladies' $20 Cloaks for $15.

We will sell all our Ladies' $15 Cloaks for $11.50.

Sell all our Ladies' $12.00 Cloaks at $8.50.
Sell all our Ladies' 10.00 Cloaks at 7.00.
Sell all our Ladies' 7.00 Cloaks at 4.50.

Ladies' Tailored Suits.

Sell all our Ladies' $22 Tailor Suits at $15.
Sell all our Ladies' 18 Tailor Suits at 12.
Sell all our Ladies' 15 Tailor Suits at 10.

..CLOTHING..

Suits and Overcoat
Mens, Boys.

Make yourself, father, brother or boy a Christmas present of nice suit of clothes. We sell only the BEST at the lowest price. Don't buy elsewhere before seeing our line of the latest styles.

Overcoats are to have the winning; they are at the low price. Our $8.50, $10, $12 and $15 overcoats will appeal to men who appreciate good values for the money. They are coats that are full of meritorious qualities, built of strict all wool material in any length desired, with or without belts. We have others at $8, $6.50 and $5, all the latest styles.

Holiday Neckwear.

Elegant is the word that fittingly describes our complete stock of Holiday Neckwear. We are showing a grand assortment of the very latest styles in Neckwear for boys and men at

From 25c to 50c.

Handkerchiefs

HANDKERCHIEFS...

For the holidays. Nothing makes a nicer present for a lady or a gentleman than a nice Handkerchief and we have a stock of them at all prices and when you can buy an all linen Handkerchief for 5c you can afford to give your friends a present and we can sell you one at - - -

5 to 75c.

-STOCKINGS-

For Women and Children, the Topsy Brand.

Hang up a new stocking and you will get it full of everything, for the Topsy brand is the lucky brand. They will hold more and last longer.

Prices 10 to 75c

Shoes &amp; Slippers!

A good idea—give shoes or slippers for a Christmas present. Most any one of the family would like a pair of slippers or shoes and we are making some special low prices on our shoe and house slippers for the holidays.

Gloves For Winter.

All Kinds—for outing, dress, and for all purposes, suitable for gifts. It will pay you to see our assortment for men and ladies, misses and children, at holiday prices.

Special Prices.

On Belts, Belt Buckles, Combs, Umbrellas, Baby Caps and Toques, Ribbons, Silks and Laces.

Towels

Towels

If you want some good things in towels come to our big store and we will show you one of the largest and best assortment of Towels in Hopkinsville. As many as you want at all prices from 10c a pair to $1.50 a pair. Make your friends a present of a nice pair of towels and buy them from us, we will save you money.

Pleasant gifts may be selected from our splendid stock of Dress Goods and Silks.

Our low prices will amaze the people.

Table Linens.

If you want to make a nice present, buy a set of Table Linen. You can find in our large stock of linens just the kind you want at just the price you want to pay, and our prices are the lowest. We will be glad to show you our stock. Come early and get the best. Our prices will sell them in a short time.

You can find many things in our store not mentioned here that will make a charming and economical Christmas gift.

A visit to our Linen Department will well repay holiday buyers.

Ladies PURSES

and HAND BAGS.

We can sell you a Purse or Bag, no matter what kind you want or what price you will pay. We bought a large line of these goods and we can sell you just what you want at just your price. See our show window and get our prices.

Special Prices.

Special prices on Ladies' and Men's Underwear for the holidays.

A Nice Christmas Present

For a man is a nice pair of fine Suspenders, or one-half-dozen pair of the Topsy Brand Sox. We have just what they want in our stock. Come and see them. Our prices will please you.

Everybody is welcome whether they come to look or buy. Keep in mind, however, that early purchasers will likely secure the choicest of goods.

Shirts -Dress- Shirt

250 E. and W. Shirts that are worth $1 and 1.50, we are selling for the holidays at only all sizes and colors. Come early before they are picked over.

75c

Holiday prices on Lace Curtains and Rugs.

Don't miss this Sale.

Early buyers always get the good things, so you come early and get some of the best of our many bargains. We will please you with our low prices and a large assortment of Christmas goods.

THE MOAYON CO.,

Hopkinsville, Ky.

No. 208 &amp; 210 S. Main St.